Water conservation assistance program

Water Wise is a State government initiative aimed at reducing your water bill by providing you with a free water audit and repair or replacement of inefficient water fittings. Water Wise is a joint initiative between the Department of Human Services and your local Water Corporation.

Who is eligible?

To be eligible for the Water Wise program you must meet the following criteria:

- Are the holder of a valid concession card
  - Pensioner Concession Card, Health Care Card or a Department of Veteran’s Affairs Pension Card or Gold Card
- Must reside at the property to receive Water Wise assistance
- Be financially responsible for the payment of your water account
- Have not received Water Wise assistance at your current property
- Fall into any one of the following customer groups:
  - those with an increase in water usage
  - large families
  - high water users
  - those who will benefit from a water audit and water retrofit

In addition, you must sign a consent form agreeing to the sharing of information collected as part of the Water Wise program, including your name, address, eligibility for the program, and water usage information. This information will only be provided to the Department of Human Services for program evaluation purposes.

What happens during the water audit?

After you have agreed to participate in the program, you will be contacted to arrange a suitable time for a water audit of your home. You may like to think about your water usage patterns before the water audit, and if you have any specific questions, you can raise these during the water audit.

During the water audit, you will be asked, about your water use and needs. The water auditor will then conduct a water audit of your home (kitchen, bathroom, laundry, hot water service, outdoor pipes, taps, hoses and fittings), identifying where you may be able to save water through conservation or through repairing or replacing water fittings.

What work may be undertaken?

A registered or licensed plumber will carry out the identified repairs or replacement of water fittings.

Depending on the result of the water audit, the plumber may:

- replace washers on leaking taps
- install flow control valves or aerators to reduce water flow
- install a 3 star rated shower rose
- repair a leaking toilet cistern
- replace a single flush cistern with a dual flush cistern
- minor adjustments to hot water service
- provide water conservation products.

Any work done is subject to your consent. You will be asked to sign a consent form that gives the plumber permission to carry out the work.

There may be some work recommended that is not covered by Water Wise. In these cases, the plumber or your water corporation will provide you with advice on your options.

Water savings

Small changes to your water use and the water fittings in your home can save thousands of litres of water each year and reduce your water bill.

- A slow leaking tap can waste 20,000 litres of water a year.
- 3 star rated showerheads use no more than 9 litres of water per minute, while old style showerheads use up to 20 litres per minute. Based on a six-minute shower, a water efficient showerhead can save up to 20,000 litres of water per person per year.
- A new dual flush toilet uses between 4.5 and 6 litres for a full flush and 3 litres for a half flush, saving a family of four up to 35,000 litres per year.

As a result of your household's increased water efficiency, you may notice, for example, a reduction in water flow in the shower, and a reduction of water when using the half flush on a dual flush toilet.
